ANDREAS HAAVEL MUSTAD
PROPRIETARY MEMBER

Andreas Mustad is the co-founder and executive director of Nexwell, a holding company specialized in institutionalizing companies in the decarbonization sector.

Prior to Nexwell, Andreas spent 22 years in the power industry, leading his latest renewable platform, Sonnedix, on a 10 year 100% CAGR growth trajectory. Andreas led that company as its CEO from a startup to a world class institutional platform spanning 5 continents and ranking in the top 10 solar independent solar power producers in almost every market where the company operated. During his tenure he was responsible for the acquisition, development, staffing, implementation and conversion of over 200 solar projects (1700 MW).

Prior to Sonnedix, Andreas held executive positions at AES Solar, Sithe Asia and Sithe Energies.

Andreas has a bachelors degree in civil and environmental engineering from Cornell University.
